Deciphering the Code

Who is the hero and who's the villain?

Who are we to decipher..

Ever thought so..

If did, for sure the thought was made subside!

We are made believe right from the texts which are mythical yet religious!

We see divine beings and seek revelation, yet fail to see our own mind's vision!

Fail to fly across the silences in the texts, embracing the fallacy of our minds

Only to stay

Succumbed to visual perception and temptations.

Will to be able, turns to Will I be able??

In the clad of the fad to do the right thing, seldom end up doing the cold-nothing!

In the past we were known as visionaries with mindfulness and compassion.

Time to think, are we the same people?

Glorious past, forlorn present catastrophic past!!!

Intoxicated Choices we make can change.

Glance to Glorious past Creating futuristic present leading to revolutionary future. Change is inevitable. Change is possible. Change is the most effective and necessary thing.

Humans have to seek to be humane.

Love thy self is the only motto.

Love we owe to each other.

Perspective matters more than anything in life,

but love and peace are all pertinent to survive.

Seek no more than needed.

Stray no matter how tempting it is.

Together we will prevail.
To be is all what is needed.
